

SYNTECH

QUICK LOOK AT THE PROJECT

Partner: Syntech (Consumer Electronics Brand)

Industry: Consumer Tech

Meet the brand: SYNTECH is a consumer tech brand creating everyday hardware — from earbuds to charging pads & more

THE HURDLE

“ For tech founders, the real challenge begins after the product is built. ”

SYNTECH's MVP showed promise & the brand went live.

But when the products hit the market , they became just another Startup product . Not because they worked the same but because they lacked what 97% of startups ignore .

Let's be honest: a charging pad or an earpod , no matter the backend , does the same job . The problem wasn't building something that worked . The problem was making it matter

Every human has the same parts , yet we are recognized by our faces. That's what most startups ignore — the brand's face , the first impression

Like many others , Syntech copied the common tech culture and disappeared into the noise:

- * Packaging was another white box .
- * Logo was a typographic copy .
- * Features were listed like everyone else: fast charging , compact .
- * Users rarely read lists ; value vanished !
- * Ads recycled the same buzzwords .

The real struggle SYNTECH & every startup faces is identity. Built through product experience. Recognized by its face.

HOW THE STRUGGLE ENDS

We built Syntech a 1-of-1 visual system engineered specifically for its space — guided by one rule:

*“ What they provide
& to who they provide ”*

Anchored in that rule, the system worked as intended:

- ☑ The brand stayed clear within its niche
- ☑ Every visual the brand put out : ads, posts — aligned with the audience
- ☑ The system became fully Syntech's own, not borrowed from fleeting trends

That's how Syntech was able to reduce silent friction in its path. We didn't really solve a problem here. We just helped them claim the advantage most never realized they were leaving on the table.
